Town Council hears RCMP objectives

A trend toward community involvement in policing was discussed with Town Council last Monday night, when RCMP Sgt. Barry Kutryk attended their Municipal Involvement Week meeting.

Sgt. Kutryk said that one of the RCMP's primary objectives is to move toward community based policing, by discussing with community leaders what they perceive as problems, and then taking pro-active steps to prevent crime. The problem solving approach, he continued, "focuses on effectiveness, not efficiency," and can help control social problems within the community. He said that the RCMP also hopes to get more volunteers involved in auxiliary policing, and to enhance the efforts of Rural Crime Watch.

Goals and objectives for the coming year include enhancement of aboriginal policing through more talks at school level and with the elders, increases in enforcement of seat-belt use and crackdowns on impaired driving, interaction with seniors groups to learn their concerns, and more focus on federal statutes regarding drugs, immigration, migratory birds and wildlife. The detachment expects financial restraints to continue, and will endeavor to "do more with less."

Kutryk announced an upcoming change of personnel. Cst. Doug Huskins and Cst. Fred Ridding will soon be replaced by new officers coming from Lac La Biche and Calgary. The detachment is presently staffed by one sergeant and six constables, plus one office worker.

Case load statistics for 1990 showed an increase which makes Elk Point the seventh busiest of 106 detachments, as regards case load per officer, in the province. Total criminal code offences were up to 601, a 15 percent increase from 1989's figure of 524, offences involving provincial statutes increased 8 percent from 290 to 313, and traffic offences increased 4 percent from 565 to 585. Less than half of all offences occurred within the town itself, and Kutryk noted that many of these involved people from out of town, rather than residents.

In addition to the visit from Sgt. Kutryk, Council dealt with a full business agenda at the meeting.

They agreed that a meeting of Council as a Committee of the Whole would be necessary to discuss the complexities of the proposed street and utility line upgrading project, after the deliberations of the Finance and Administration Committee are completed. It was noted that this meeting may be some time in the future, as the project will not be carried out until financing is available.

Prepare now for tourism

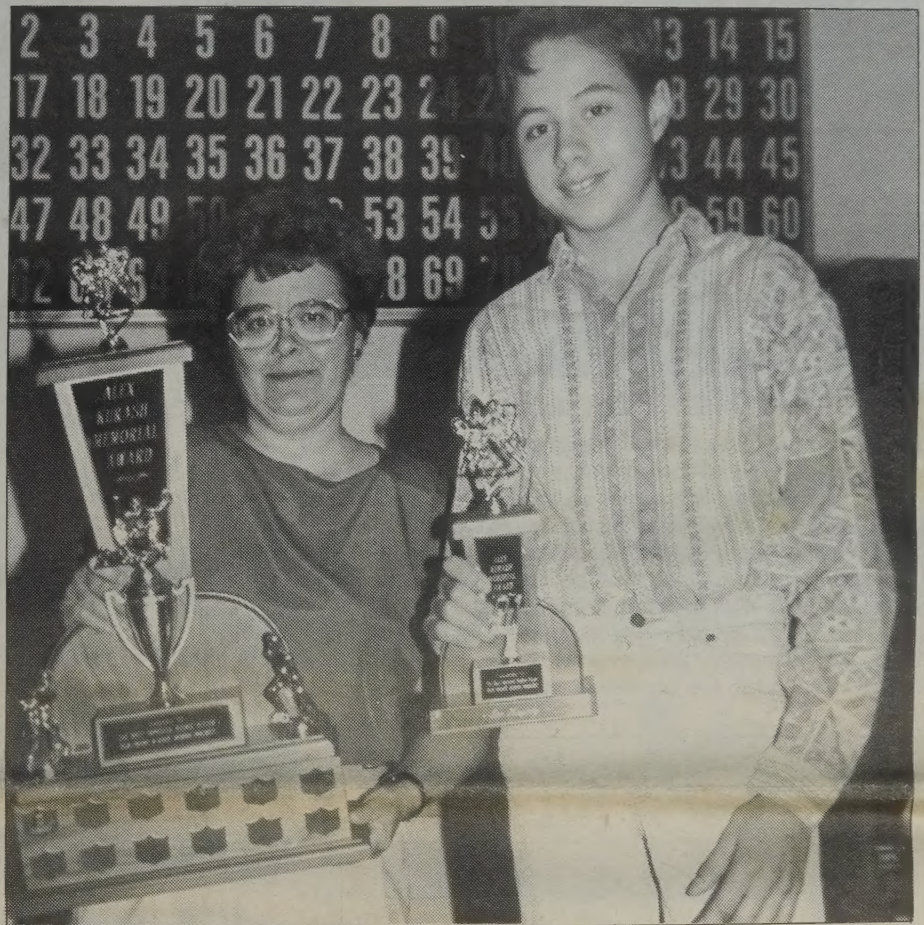

Just over a month from now, Alberta's first wave of tourists will head for the highways. Are YOU ready to welcome them to your business, and to our own special corner of the scenic Lakeland?

The Lakeland Tourist Association has planned a series of meetings in various communities throughout their five marketing areas. One of these will be held right here in Elk Point this Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. Location is the old Court House behind the Town Office.

All those who serve tourists—in restaurants, service stations, hotels, motels, campgrounds, retail businesses, recreational activities and more—are urged to come out and meet your local Lakeland Tourist Association representatives and find out what the LTA can do to help you promote your business to visitors to our area. You will also be able to see some of the projects the LTA has been working on this past year to bring more tourists to northeastern Alberta.

As we gear up for the 1992 Bicentennial, tourism becomes more and more important to our economy. Drop in for coffee and find out how the LTA can help your business to maximize its tourist potential.

Alex Kurash Memorial Award Winner

Ian Kozicky became the first Elk Point hockey player to win the Alex Kurash Memorial Award, which will be presented annually to the peewee age player who exhibits the most improved skills, positive attitude, coachability and eagerness to learn. Louise Kurash was on hand to make the presentation.

Minor hockey winds up season

Elk Point Minor Hockey wound up a very successful season this past Friday evening, with a huge crowd of players, coaches, families and friends on hand for a banquet and awards ceremony.

Alex Fedoruk of Alberta Minor Hockey was the evening's guest speaker, and in addition to outlining a few changes to the rules, explained the principles of an initiation program which has been used in a number of communities during the past five years and which has seen huge increases in the number of players in those communities. The program is designed to make the youngster's first contact with the sport of hockey safe and enjoyable, and teaches basic skills while letting the child enjoy the game. Almost 200 programs have been held, with 14,000 children taking part.

Fedoruk also reported on the Coaches Certification Program.

Next year, any team going into a provincial tournament or provincial playdowns must have one certified coach on their bench.

The Fair Play award won in 1990 by Elk Point's Pee Wees was called by Fedoruk "A positive step—it shows what kind of hockey program you run here."

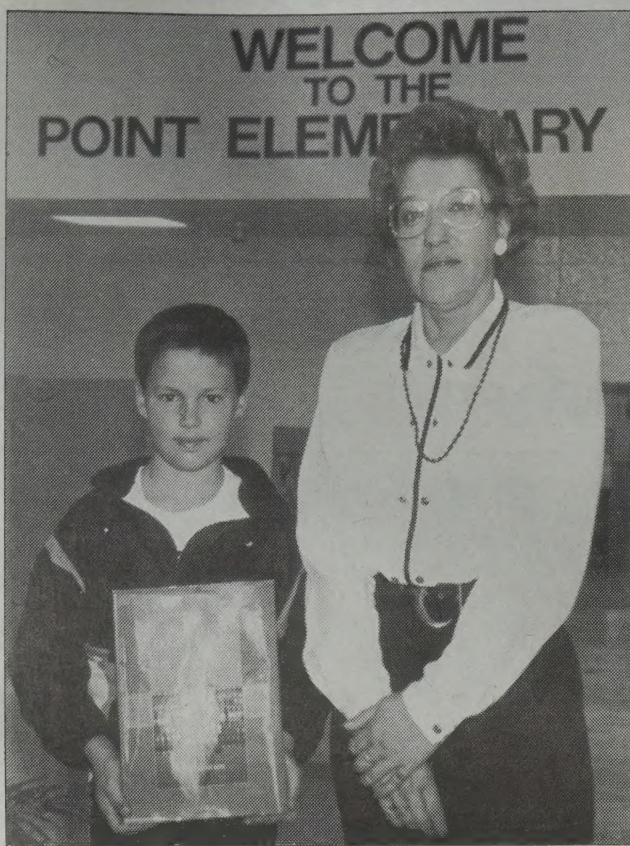

Zone 2 Chairman Mac Macleod recognized the coaches, managers and parents for the time they expend to make hockey possible, and congratulated the players on their efforts.

Each team was then introduced by their coach, who gave a brief rundown on that level's accomplishments over the season. Each player was presented with a medallion from the Elk Point Minor Hockey Association, a participation certificate from Esso Resources, and a package of hockey cards donated by Woody's Trophies and Gifts.

Virtually every coach had an excellent season to report, with tournament wins and improved skills noted. The best seasons of all were recorded by the Capitol Atoms, who won their league with discipline, teammanship and pride in both themselves and their team, and by the Bantam Elks, who represented the Zone at Provincials.

The Bantam Elks also attended the 40-team Value Drug Mart Tournament in Calgary the previous weekend, and were congratulated on their win of the tournament's Fair Play award, which netted each player a wrist watch donated by Timex. They had the least penalties of any team, after the first three games played. Although they lost their chance to advance to the finals in the third period of their final game, they have certainly proved the theory that it isn't if you win or

Student Wins Provincial Award

James Babenek of Elk Point Elementary School was among five winning entrants in the Alberta section of the National Soil Conservation Poster Competition. James and his teacher, Bernice Capjack, display one of his prizes, a book he received at the presentation ceremonies at the Alberta Legislature on April 8. The Hon. Ernie Isley, Minister of Agriculture, presented each winner with a $50 award, while Wayne Arrison, President of the Alberta Conservation Tillage Society, presented the winners with a collection of books signed by author and conservationist Grant MacEwan. The students also toured the Legislature and were introduced to the MLAs.

Playground fundraisers

Two events to raise additional money for construction of a community playground at Elk Point Elementary School are coming up in the very near future. This coming Friday, April 19, a huge Garage Sale, with all proceeds going toward the playground equipment, will be held in the school gymnasium from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. This is a great opportunity to look for 'treasures' while helping out the Playground Committee's treasury.

Then on Saturday, May 4, the ladies of Elk Point and surrounding areas will have a special evening to look forward to, as the Playground Committee sponsors a Ladies Night Out, complete with dinner, a fashion show and a mini trade fair of items of interest to ladies. Tickets are available from the Elementary School Office, Michelle's Hair Design, Donna's Shear Beauty, Single Styles, Jeannine's Fashions and from Diane Frankiw, phone 724-4191. Have an enjoyable evening out while you help the Playground Fund grow!

Town Council hears objectives

Town for the benefit of both, was discussed and will be sent to the Community Services Board for their input before bringing it to the Golf Club.

Elk Point's Public Works Department has asked for two weeks of lead time wherever possible on requests for duties involved with such events as Canada Day, to streamline scheduling of work in the department.

The Town's new Environment Committee met for the first time on April 3, and Councillor Allan Frankiw was appointed Chairman at that time. He reported that the committee is currently setting goals and objectives. One of their first moves was to ask the administration to check into the Shell Oil Environment Grant as a possible funding source for future projects. The committee hopes to meet with their counterparts from the Lioness Club shortly. They have contacted Turbo Resources and UFA, both of which have used oil collection facilities at their bulk fuel stations, and have received reports ranging from 'quite surprising' to 'moderate' regarding the response to the installation of these.

The Community Cultural Centre Building Society reported that the newest set of plans has been viewed and some minor changes made, also a discussion on the exterior finish of the building has taken place. All members of community groups, as well as the general public, are invited to view the plans and give their input at an Open House scheduled for April 24 at the Community Services Centre.

Council set Monday, April 22 at 6:00 p.m. as the date for a Court of Revision hearing into three appeals to assessment.

Car show

Elk Point Auto Club has announced the date of their annual Car Show. This year's event will go Saturday, May 25 at the A. G. Ross Arena, with viewing from noon until 6:00 p.m. Everyone is welcome to participate, either as an exhibitor or as a spectator. For more information, call Ron at 724-2635.

Municipal Involvement Week Visitors

Elk Point Public Works Department employee Steve Penz shows a group of Grade 7 students around the Water Treatment Plant during the Municipal Involvement Week Open House at the facility. F. G. Miller High School teachers Mike O'Neil and Glenda Brandingen took the opportunity to bring their classes along to find out what happens to their drinking water between the river and the tap.

Heart and stroke Foundation campaign huge success

Elk Point and district's donations to the Heart and Stroke Foundation of Alberta's 1991 campaign totalled $2972.63, up 20 percent over last year's figure and a 67 percent increase from the 1989 campaign.

Local campaign chairperson Adella Jennissen and her 15 helpers received a warm letter of congratulations on their outstanding efforts from the Foundation, which also said that $1.2 million is being utilized for 50 research projects which will be undertaken at Alberta's universities, thanks to the volunteer canvassers across the province.

Mrs. Jennissen can now accept memorial donations and issue receipts and cards to give to the bereaved, indicating that a donation has been made to this worthy cause in memory of their loved one.

In Our View

An alphabet of April

Irene Magnusson

Safely home from my travels, and cosy in my home, I look out the window at the now brown dry grass, at the calendar that says it's mid-April, and part of me says thank goodness the snow is gone, while another part of me is seeing that bare brown yard with a gardener's eye. Into my mind trickles the alphabet of April.

April is truly the time of spring, in this area; that March thing is just for the calendars and astronomers. For we growers, April is the time. For one thing, Birds are arriving, bringing us song, the soaring flights of geese, ducks—even crows—and today, a robin in my topmost spruce tips. In the old days, many were tempted to Burn, but this is frowned on and also such a waste of organic matter, which could better be returned to the soil. There is always a certain amount of trash which must be burned or otherwise done away with, still.

April is a time to consider the coming Caterpillars, which will soon festoon our trees and shrubs—and a good time to do them in, if there were such a method, and my yard will surely be inundated this spring, as they circled it completely last spring. Oh, well, grin and bear it. I watch, too, for signs of Creeping Charley, the most persistent of weeds, and one which my yard harbors.

The Dead, Dry, Dusty grass I will disturb with my lawnmower rake, leaving the remains to replenish the earth beneath it, at the same time disturbing the soil, encouraging growth. At the End of winter, the Evergreens look rather dull, but will soon be new-tipped and bright.

Not indulging in too much Foolish waste, I'll scatter scraps from my household over the garden to rot and dry a bit before working it in. While applying a bit of Fertilizer or Weed'n'Feed to the lawn, I'll be checking for Fairy rings—not that I can do anything about them, but hopefully, they will soon have grown themselves right out of my yard.

TheGrowth of Green Grass, and planning for the Garden are part of the hope of April, and it involvesHoeing, Hedges, Heavy lifting, and for some,Housecleaning. This can lead to Injuries, if we are not careful, especially for the very aged, such as myself—so I promise to stay off the ladders (unless I need to go up). One should rest often—a good time to do the Income tax return. Joints can take a beating (especially mine) (and I try to stay out of them) but the Joy of spring is hard to resist. Knowing how to do things the easy way helps, as does getting someone to give you a hand with the harder stuff.

April is not likely to give us Leaves, but the tassels are already there, so there COULD be a tinge of green on the hillsides, here and there, by May first. I shall Listen, for the birds, the frogs, the gurgle of creeks. Perhaps I shall Loaf a bit, in the soft sun.

I've already mentioned Mowing—of the old grass for sure, of the new grass, hopefully. I may even look ahead to Next year, nudging the days along when I should be holding tight to each one.Mosquitoes are part of my alphabet, too, but I must be very bitter, because they don't spend much time munching on me. Overhead, the calm and beautiful blue spreads peace and contentment on those who will look—the showers are good, too.

This month is a time for Pruning, but not everything. Maples and

Alberta Trails

By Irene Magnusson

birch can bleed to death, if you start cutting up too early in the summer. And leave the lilacs alone until they've bloomed—or you'll lose your lovely flowers of May, tra-la.

Perennials need pruning, and a bit of other care, but mostly they are low on worry, high on giving their beauty to share. One could sufferQualms as to what to plant, what to buy, will it grow, notQuite sure what will grow best. Our greenhouse manager can give us tips, or we can Read our catalogues, folders from the D. A., farm papers—even directions on the packages. (Rhubarb will be ready to use by the end of the month!)

Few Seeds should be planted in this area while April prevails but some will be. I feel the Soil should dry a bit, warm a bit—and then we DO get these Surprise Snow Storms.

The Tilth of the soil is all-important; my own opinion is that much of that Trash many persons either bag or burn, could be returned to the soil, worked in to become fiber and renew theTopsoil. My theory: Use what you have.Vegetables can use what you would throw away. Even Weeds, worked well into the soil, become more soil. Try not to let them go to seed—but even so, a handy hoe will return those sprouts to organic matter, which is what the soil is made up of.

We must be on the Watch for Weeds. But more importantly than anything, will be the Water allowed to the soil; (just as it is to the war victims, and the wages they pay for their leader's wants and ways.)

As you work your garden and yard, remember this is more Xercise than most of us are doing all winter, so avoid Xtremes. OurYards will wait, while we Zero in on the most important things...do what we can to beautify our surroundings, control our excessiveZeal, and pray to experience no Zero weather before (very late) fall.

So. Now that robin's inspecting the lawn—and I'd better get busy and do my part, too.

Earth Day thoughts

Monday, April 22 is Earth Day. Declared by the United Nations in 1970, this date is set aside for us to consider the ways we can help to save our fragile environment from harm.

Although no formal observance, at least that we know of, is planned in Elk Point for Earth Day 1991, a number of ecologically sound programs have been put in place to help area residents take care of this corner of the earth on an ongoing basis.

One way Elk Point is helping is by recycling waste oil. We now have two bulk fuel dealers who will accept used oil for recycling. Another way is by the formation of an Environmental Committee of Town Council. Our Lioness Club and the Scouting Association have their paper recycling program, which has recently been assisted by the Lionesses obtaining the necessary grant to purchase a trailer for storage and hauling of recyclable paper.

Many articles in magazines and newspapers deal with ways to reduce the amounts of garbage we throw away, by recycling, composting, buying wisely and thinking of new ways to do things. Our own Lioness column gives fine suggestions every week. A suggestion of our own: when you finish reading that magazine, don't throw it in the garbage (if in fact you bought it, rather than borrowing it from the library)—give it to a friend, or take it to one of the seniors' residences or to the hospital where others may enjoy it. And when Earth Day comes, and we have another issue of the Review ready to go to press, take this one to the Lioness Recycling Trailer—we're 100 percent recyclable!

Our Past

School days

Steve Andrishak

The first school in our immediate area was built two and one half miles east of Elk Point on the south east corner of the quarter section of land now owned by Zane Sheplawy.

It was a one room school built in 1909. The children of our original settlers as well as the children living in Elk Point attended this school. The first teacher was Mrs. William Rockwell. This school was in continuous operation until the late 1920s and was then moved into Elk Point. A west wing was added on and it then became Elk Point's first high school. This building is still standing behind the United Church Hall and is currently used as a rummage store.

I first attended school in 1927. The school was actually a church, which was located about where Andy Miller now lives. My first teacher was Mrs. William Rockwell. She was also the first teacher of our first school. Sounds confusing, doesn't it? This school burned down when I was in grade two and a temporary school was set up in an old hall building located down the hill. I will always remember this school, especially the Christmas concert held there that year. I had to recite "Simple Simon" and I thought I knew my lines, however it didn't turn out that way. When the curtain opened up I was sitting on a high stool with a fishing rod in my hand and a pail of water resting on the floor. When I looked down on the crowd I developed stage fright. I managed to remember the first two lines of my recitation and there I sat, repeating the same line over and over again about four times. The crowd started to snicker, then laugh, and about then I was long gone. That ended my career as an actor. No one could ever get me to go on a stage again after that.

In 1929 a two room school was built just north of where our town hall now stands. Miss Veronica Miller taught one wing and Mrs. Hattie McQuillan taught the other wing. I spent five enjoyable years in this school and then graduated to the high school to the east of it. Mr. Jack Jensen and his wife Della were the teachers of this high school at the time. They had previously taken over from Jim Munn. Mr. Jensen and his wife remained at the head of this high school until 1941. He resigned soon after and joined the Royal Canadian Air Force. He was followed by Mr. R. E. Beattie. About this time a third school was in operation in the vicinity of where our Royal Canadian Mounted Police barracks now stands. It was used as an elementary school.

In those days, there were no school buses operating. The children walked to school, rode a bicycle, came by horse and buggy or were driven to school in a car. Somehow they managed to get there. There was no school auditorium, the wide open space outside was our playground. When I attended school, the strap was commonly used when you didn't behave yourself. Now and then some parents would strongly resent when their child received a strapping, however in most cases they felt the teacher had a good reason and they left it at that. I got my share of strappings in school and when my father found out, I usually ended up getting a second helping at home.

Most early schools had a pot belly stove to provide the heat. If you sat too close to the stove, you roasted and if you were too far away you froze to death. There were no drugs floating around in our schools in those days. When some one mentioned "grass" they meant the kind you cut with a hand lawn mower.

We didn't have much in the way of entertainment outside of a school dance once a month which was held in one of the two high school rooms. It was usually supervised by the school principal and was a well behaved event that was enjoyed by all.

We certainly didn't have the comforts that are known in schools today. We didn't have running water and it seemed the water in the dispenser was either too warm or frozen. Outdoor toilets were used at the time and you had to signal to the teacher by holding up your hand in order to get her permission to leave the room. Sometimes she didn't notice your signal and you ended up snapping your fingers as loud as you could—this really bugged her.

The strap is no longer used today. It seems someone convinced the school authorities that the children's constitutional rights were being violated when they were strapped, and so the use of a strap ended. I wish someone had thought of that sooner—it would have saved me a few strappings.

It is hard to believe that all this happened over fifty years ago. We certainly didn't have everything going for us like the children have today, but somehow we still managed to get some kind of an education.

Lioness receive grant

The Elk Point and district Lioness Club would like to announce that they have received $5000 from the Shell Environmental Fund. "The funds will be used to help purchase a trailer van for our paper recycling project," says Jane Mahon, Lioness President. "We are pleased to be able to draw on this Fund for our worthwhile environmental project."

Launched during Environment Week in June 1990, the Shell Environmental Fund has gained wide acceptance among community groups and individuals from across Canada. To date, more than 598 applications have been received in the Fund's administrative office in Calgary. More than $353,230 has been approved for 203 projects from Newfoundland to Vancouver Island. Schools, community groups and service clubs are among the recipients of funding for local environmental projects. Key criteria are that the projects have a high volunteer or community involvement.

The Elk Point and District Lioness Club would also like to extend their thanks to the many local businesses and clubs that have shown their support of the project through both cash donations and product or service donations. Without your support, we could not continue to make paper recycling a reality in Elk Point. Our thanks go to Pan Canadian, Amoco, Norcen, Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, Byers Transport, B & R, E-Can, Allied Hardware, Imperial Lumber and Universal Bottle Depot.

Upcoming courses

Four single-session courses are coming up in the next few weeks, with bright new ideas for spring.

Square Foot Gardening is an interesting concept which will be shared with us tomorrow evening from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m., with Carol Hellquist as the instructor.

Mop Dolls are an interesting new craft idea. Wednesday, May 1 from 7:00 to 10:00 p.m. has been set for this session instructed by Cheri Lindquist.

Cutting Kids' Hair is set for May 8, 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. with Annette Ference as instructor for this useful skill.

Band Boxes will be the subject of a one day workshop on Saturday, May 11, beginning at 9:00 a.m. and ending at 4:00 p.m. Lee Johnson will lead you through the steps to creating one of these handsome and useful decorative items.

PROTECT AGAINST THESE HAZARDS* AND ONE OTHER Low Market Prices!

These are the choices: the decision is yours

Purchase Separate Protection

All-Risk Crop Insurance: renew or sign up for Canada-Alberta All-Risk Crop Insurance if you need to protect against production losses due to weather and other natural hazards.

Revenue Protection Plan: buy (only) the new Revenue Protection Plan if fluctuating income levels are your concern.

Purchase Combined Protection

Buy both Crop Insurance and Revenue Protection together and protect against all the natural hazards of crop production PLUS the financial losses that can happen if market prices drop. That's double protection - and purchased together these two Alberta programs give you income stability.

Offered separately or in combination with each other, these programs give Alberta farmers more flexibility, more options for coverage and more personal choice opportunities. You select what works best for your farm - and pay only for what you decide you need.

The theme of the meeting was "Change is a stepping stone to a great future. Together we must accept change in order to reap the benefits of opportunities, personal growth and membership growth-tomorrow." A workshop session on "Coping With Change," instructed by Caroline Yewchin, gave the ladies a new insight into the ways they can cope with the need to adapt to changes in their personal lives and to the ever changing world in which they live.

All four lodges took part in the day's agenda. The host St. Paul OORP started off the afternoon with the Opening Ceremony, following messages of welcome by St. Paul Town Council representative Jeannette Boulet and St. Paul BPOE Exalted Ruler Gene Gagnon. After additional words of welcome from St. Paul HRL Ellen Cartier and District Deputy Alvena Schuhmacher, members of each lodge were introduced.

The Initiation Ceremony was performed by the Elk Point Lodge, as they welcomed new member Alma Bettcher. Two Hills Lodge had the assistance of some St. Paul members in their Pansy Ceremony, while the Elk Point Drill Team assisted Myrnam Lodge in the OORP Drill. St. Paul Lodge wound up the first half of the afternoon with the Sunshine March and the Draping of the Charter, done annually to remember departed OORP members.

The second part of the afternoon started off with the workshop session, and continued with a brief business agenda. This included the election of a new District Deputy, with PHRL Erica Bender of the Elk Point Lodge elected by acclamation and later initiated into her new role. She was welcomed with the brand new District Deputy Drill, done for the first time ever by her home lodge.

Supreme Lodge Chaplain Elaine Hennel had a brief but inspiring message for the ladies, encouraging all present to attend the national OORP Convention and to take part in the decision making that takes place there.

The day wound up with entertainment by a group of Highland Dancers, and a banquet.

Scouts seeking Jamboree funds

Five Boy Scouts from Elk Point are looking forward to a special experience this summer, when they attend the Alberta Scouting Jamboree at Sylvan Lake, west of Red Deer, July 15 to 20.

While this is nowhere near as far to travel as the Prince Edward Island Jamboree attended by three local Scouts in 1989, it is still a costly journey, and the Scouting Association is now working on funding the trip.

Among the projects the boys have planned is 'Plant Trees for Canada' which involves seeking funding pledges, either per tree or as a lump sum, for a tree planting project in early May. The boys will soon be canvassing, and would welcome your support.

CENSUS DAY - June 4

Come join the team as a

CENSUS REPRESENTATIVE

We are looking for interested, reliable applicants who are:

- at least 18 years of age with full-time use of a motor vehicle and a valid driver's licence
- willing to work the time required including evening and weekend work when necessary
- have the use of a private telephone
- strong ability to understand written instruction and to read maps as measured by a selection test
- pleasant personality with good communication skills
- have some understanding or experience with agriculture

Hours of Work: Must be able to attend two (2) training sessions and be available to work approximately 4-5 weeks (depending upon size of enumeration area) starting end of May and June.

We are looking for 14 enumerators to cover an area that extends from the Saskatchewan border in the East, to Range 7 in the west, from Elizabeth Colony to the North (including Muriel Lake, part of Moose Lake but not the Town of Bonnyville) to the North Saskatchewan River to the south. Applicants should be a resident of the general locality.

Completed resumes with references to be received by April 22, 1991.

Report from the Legislature

John Drobot
M.L.A., St. Paul

In light of the significance of the provincial budget to all Albertans, I will, over the next two or three weeks, be highlighting specific areas of the budget. This week I will be focusing on the fiscal policies outlined in the health budget for 1991-92.

The Honorable Nancy Betkowski affirmed that the Department of Health budget for the 1991-92 budget year will increase by 9.8 per cent to $3.4 billion. I am pleased that during this difficult economic time when our government has presented Albertans with a balanced budget, the government's commitment to protecting and improving health programs will increase over last year. However, new approaches are required to maintain the quality and responsiveness of our health care system. Accordingly, the focus of health services will continue to shift from institutions to the community.

In keeping with this priority, the largest percentage increases in the Health Budget are in the area of community based services through the Public Health and Mental Health divisions where the increases will be 20 per cent and 13 per cent respectively.

Home Care for Albertans has also benefitted from increased funding. I am very pleased that home care has been expanded to include services for the disabled under age 65 group. The Home Care program will receive new targeted funding of $6.0 million for the provision of additional services to the disabled under the age of 65 years as well as an additional $10.0 million to expand and maintain existing programs. These increases represent a total increase of more than 30 per cent over last years' figures.

The Alberta Aids to Daily Living (AADL) Program and the Extended Health Benefits Program will be consolidated and funding will be increased by 30per cent over last year's budget to $60 million. Aids to Daily Living has been restructured to provide medical supplies and equipment to all physically disabled, chronically or terminally ill Albertans, including senior citizens who were previously served through the separate Extended Health Benefits program. Effective July 1, 1991 benefits will be provided on a cost shared basis with clients contribution 25 per cent of the cost to a maximum of $500 per family annually. The previous $100 for AADL clients deductible is also now eliminated.

As announced in last year's budget, the government is continuing its policy of having Health Care Insurance premiums cover 50 per cent of the cost of basic health services, excluding seniors. On July 1, 1991, monthly health care premiums will increase by $3 for singles and $6 for families. Residents of nursing homes, however, will no longer be required to pay for prescription drugs or ambulance services. The change will bring nursing home pharmacy and ambulance benefits on line with those provided in auxiliary hospitals.

Reflecting the government's progressive approach to the challenges of our health care system, a Health Services Innovation Fund has been established to allow for the development of new approaches in the areas of health promotion and health services delivery. Also announced was a new $2 million program to help recruit physicians for rural Alberta. This program is designed to address the long standing difficulties experienced in some parts of the province in maintaining an adequate supply of local physicians.

I am pleased with the increases in funding to the health budget this year. But I am equally pleased with the dynamic approach our government is taking to ensuring the effectiveness and longevity of our health care system for future generations of Albertans.

If you have any questions dealing with the Health Care Budget for 1991-92 or the provincial budget, please contact me at ...

The County of St. Paul Agriculture Service Board in conjunction with Ducks Unlimited is looking for co-operators who are interested in using Sweet Clover as a Plowdown.

Ducks Unlimited will provide the seed, free of charge and pay up to $5.00 per acre in the second year for desicant if required.

REQUIREMENTS:

- * Minimum 80 acres to a maximum of 160 acres.
- * Must be seeded with a cover crop.
- * Stubble from cover crop must be at least 6 inches.
- * No tillage or disturbance permitted until July 15 of the following year.
- * Seeding rate 8 - 10 lbs. / acre.
- * Seed must be inoculated.
- * May be cut or plowed down only after July 15. If plowed down, it may be desiccated in mid-June.

Applications will be taken on a first-come, first-serve basis. For more information contact Dennis or Larry at 645-3301.

County of St. Paul No. 19 Beaver Control Program Policy NOTICE

A fee of $50.00 (fifty dollars) per parcel will now be charged to defray the costs for the Removal of Beavers and/or Blasting of the Dam(s) upon private land within the boundaries of the County of St. Paul No. 19.

Complainants will be required to pay $50.00 (fifty dollars) in advance of the service. These fees must be made payable to the County of St. Paul No. 19, at the County Office, or be given directly to the Beaver Trapper.

Once the work has been completed by the Beaver Trapper at his discretion and if another complaint is received for the same location, in the same year, an additional $50.00 (fifty dollars) will have to be paid by the Landowner before commencement of work.

The County of St. Paul No. 19 and its Employees have the right to refuse any requests by a Landowner on his/her property at their discretion.

What's news at the library?

The Elk Point Public Library is so very fortunate to be able to host Myrna Kostash for an Author Reading on April 23 in the Library. One of Myrna Kostash's well known books is All of Baba's Children. Some of her other books are Her Own Woman, Long Way From Home, No Kidding, Women Against Censorship, Competition: A Feminist Taboo? and Ethnicity in a Technological Age. Her newest book is titled Out Of Place. She is also the author of many articles which have appeared in such magazines as Saturday Night, Chatelaine and Macleans. She has written for film, (notably Teach Me To Dance, from the National Film Board, 1978, to be shown during the reading), for television and for stage. We will be honoring our volunteers with a presentation at 7:15 p.m., and the Author Reading will follow. Take advantage of the opportunity to hear this noted author and view her work.

New Books

No Kidding: Inside The World of Teenage Girls - A quote from Macleans Magazine states "Count on being shocked, surprised and informed as you read this wide ranging investigative report from inside the secret world of teenage girls. Listen in as more than 50 representative young women candidly share their thoughts on the topics that matter to them the most: boys, best friends, family, school, sex, the future and more. You'll also meet some unforgettable personalities:

Judy, torn between two cultures; Ruth, tough and making it on her own; 'unique' Carla; fiercely independent Nicole. They invite you into their private, inner circle for an astonishing revelation of what really goes on, at school, at parties and in their own hearts and minds." Author Myrna Kostash is the winner of Alberta's Nonfiction Book of the Year Award. She lives in Edmonton and spends her summers in a shack on a quarter section of land near Two Hills, Alberta.

When and where did modern humans first evolve? And how, against all the odds from the Ice Age world, did our ancestors succeed in colonizing the globe? The Journey From Eden by Brian M. Fagan is the first book for a general audience to address these questions and to tell the exciting story of the human conquest of the earth.

Vital Signs - Where life begins, terror lurks...Only Robin Cook, acknowledged master of the technological thriller, could have written this supremely chilling novel about the passion to create life - and the power to destroy it.

Minor hockey banquet winds up season

Non-Stop Supporters

Sandy and Don Woytkiw do far more than take care of the A. G. Ross Arena—they are always on hand when help is needed. Elk Point Agricultural Society presented this gift as a small token of more thanks than can be expressed adequately in words.

Phoning Volunteers Appreciated

Diane Hawryluk, Sandy Woytkiw and Betty Roscoe, along with (not shown) Lucille Smith and Donna Kozicky, spent a good part of hockey season on the phone, lining up booth workers for the arena. Thanks, ladies!

Minor hockey windup

lose, but how you play the game, that is important.

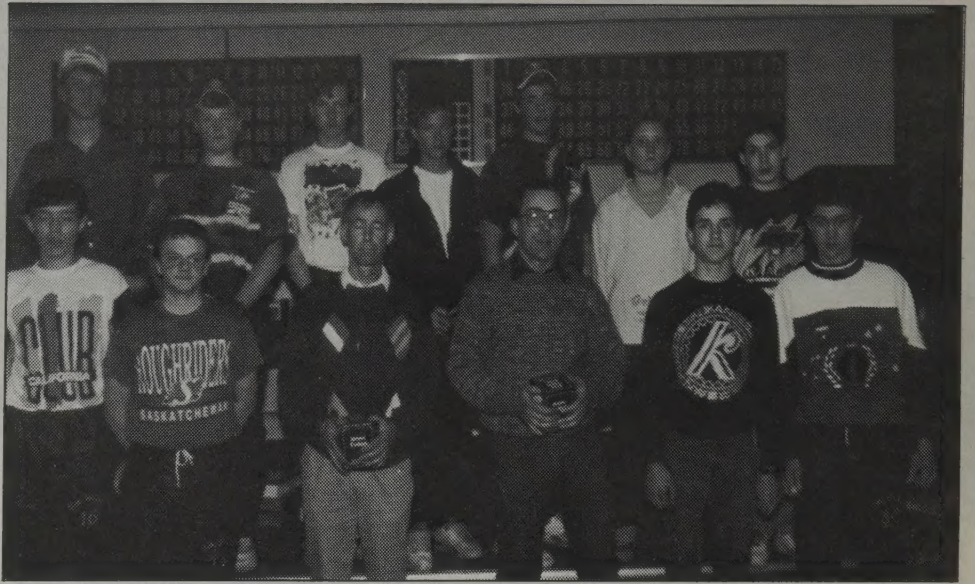

Jim Hawkins has coached some of these boys for three seasons, both as peewees and as bantams, and considers it a great pleasure to have worked with them. As some of the boys leave the Bantam age group this year, Hawkins feels they "will leave a really big hole" to be filled by upcoming players. He said that Elk Point "has a really great minor hockey system which generated guys like these," and also expressed thanks to Don and Sandy Woytkiw for their outstanding efforts.

Agricultural Society President Glenn Harms announced plans for a $200,000 addition to the A. G. Ross Arena which are under consideration at the present time, and said that a special meeting will be called in the near future to discuss these. He continued with special thanks to the phoning committee, Diane Hawryluk, Betty Roscoe, Sandy Woytkiw, Donna Kozicky and Lucille Smith, whose efforts kept the concession booth staffed throughout the winter and enabled the Ag Society to net $36,750 in booth profits. Harms presented "our biggest volunteers," Don and Sandy Woytkiw, with a gift for all the extra time and effort they put in at the arena.

Al Pankiw introduced the Alex Kurash Memorial Award, which was set up with money given to the PeeWees who won the Fair Play Award last year, to give to their favorite non profit cause. The award will go each year to the peewee age participant showing the most continued improvement in hockey skills, along with a positive attitude, an eagerness to learn and coachability. The award's first ever recipient was Ian Kozicky, who was presented with the award by Louise Kurash.

Minor Hockey President Reo Van Maarion thanked a number of people who have helped the Association with their series of bingos which will help to finance upcoming clinics for players and coaches, and reminded all present that it "takes a lot of support to make a system go."

A Very Classy Bunch Of Guys

Elk Point Bantam Elks were one of Elk Point's highest achievers this year, winning their way not only into the Provincial Playoffs, but into a Fair Play award for the least penalties of any team at the Value Drug Mart Bantam Tournament, which was attended by 40 teams from around the province. Congratulations to the Bantams and their dedicated coaching staff on an excellent year.

Don't pick this kid for Junior Citizen of '91

He may be perfect, but what has he done for you lately?

Besides, a kid doesn't have to be perfect to become a Junior Citizen of Alberta. Indeed, there aren't a lot of angels out there anyway. However, there are a lot of down-to-earth kids between the ages of 6 and 18 doing great things in communities all over Alberta. And we want to hear about them.

Just write a letter telling us why your nominee is tops and mail it to the address below. After all, any kid who has both feet planted firmly on the ground deserves our recognition.
